Rules for earning extra money, Correct Quiz Answers!

1) B

It's very important to clear your plan with a parent or guardian before you take any kind of job or start any kind of business. They'll want to make sure the moneymaking idea is safe, sensible, and right for you.

2) C

Baby sitting is a job that requires both experience and responsibility, and you should probably be at least 12 before you start looking after younger children.

3) A

If most people in your neighborhood are too busy to do their own yard work, and then you will probably have many customers willing to pay for your help. If people already have gardeners, or if there are a lot of other kids running yard work businesses, then you might have more trouble finding clients.

4) B

Money you make on your own is pretty much yours to spend as you please, as long as you've satisfied any rules your parents have given you. Money that comes from your family can be limited, and doesn't give you the same pride as money you have earned yourself.

5) C

It's never ok to be lazy when working for someone. If you always work up to your best abilities, you will not only be proud of yourself, but also you will impress the people who have hired you and you will earn a good reputation.

6) C

You must always ask a parents permission before you do any extra housework for money. Make sure that he or she wants the work done, and it's not work that is already expected for free or in exchange for your allowance.
